

FROM GOAT HERDER TO DIPLOMAT IS RECORD OF GARCIA

A Youth of Primitive Mexico,
Only Two Years Ago, Coahuila,
Becomes Inspector-General of All Consulates.

EL PASO, Tex.—From a goat herder on his father's farm in the state of Coahuila to Inspector General of Consulates for the Mexican Government in the United States is the advance which Andres G. Garcia has made with only one and one-half years of schooling in a small parochial school at Cuatro Ciénegas, Coahuila. His appointment to the new office was made by General Venustiano Carranza as a reward for services rendered the Constitutional cause since its inception Mr. Garcia's official announcement states.

Born on a small goat ranch near Monclova in 1871, Andres Garcia lived the primitive life of the poor Mexican farmer's family eating goat meat for fresh meat and drinking goat's milk for his evening meal. He attended the Little Sisters' Parochial School at Cuatro Ciénegas, learned the history of the church and the lives of the saints and little else, he says, and then became a goat-herd and a "hand" on his father's farm. At the death of his father Andres worked as a vaquero, or Mexican cowboy, was employed on railroad construction work at 75 cents Mexican money a day and worked on his mother's ranch between times.

Wishing to go to Texas and learn telegraphy, he obtained a place in a general store in Monclova, Coahuila, where he sold whiskey, groceries, meat and farm implements. Having saved $200 Mexican money, he went to San Antonio, Texas, where he learned telegraphy and returned to Mexico to work as a telegrapher at Esplanada, Coahuila. Mr. Garcia then entered the life insurance business in Mexico and was in charge of a large agency branch for one of the large New York life insurance companies. He was later placed in charge of the agencies of a Mexican insurance company for the entire republic. He lost his whole fortune in this venture and started again as a news agent and correspondent for a Mexico City paper at Torreón.

In 1910 Mr. Garcia was arrested in Torreón by the Diaz secret police and held 30 days incommunicado. His attorney was Eliseo Arredondo, now Mexican ambassador designate at Washington and a close friend of Mr. Garcia's. After being liberated Mr. Garcia went to San Antonio, joined Francisco I. Madero, Jr., at the start of the Madero revolution. He served in various positions in the Madero provisional government and, in the revolution against General Huerta, raised a force of 150 men in the coal fields of Coahuila and joined General Jesus Carranza, brother of the First Chief.

In 1914 Mr. Garcia was appointed Carranza consul at El Paso and for two years served as General Carranza's representative on the border. He arranged for the transfer of the Villa forces in the state of Chihuahua to the Carranza army following the defeat of Villa at Agua Prieta. He was active in preventing a break between the American and Mexican governments following the Carrizal fight by insisting that the clash had no international significance.

CHICAGO MAN STILL HAS FAITH IN WIFE SHOT IN MAN'S APARTMENTS IN PHILADELPHIA HOTEL BY JEALOUS WOMAN

Mrs. Harry Belzer (left) and Mrs. Joseph Le Duc.

"I don't know why my wife was in a Philadelphia hotel with J. C. Gravel, but I believe she was either lured there or she was drugged," said Joseph Le Duc, wealthy Chicago merchant, after his wife had been shot in Gravel's apartments by Mrs. Harry Belzer of Brooklyn. Mrs. Le Duc will live, but the jealous woman who committed the crime succeeded in killing both Gravel and herself.

Mr. Le Duc was shown the hotel register with "Mr. J. C. Gravel and wife, New York," inscribed. "I won't believe it," he said passionately. "These things mean only that innocence has been seduced and a man I considered a friend sought to wrong me terribly."

AUSTRIA NOT TO CALL PARLIAMENT

Double Barreled Scrap On Against Premier Tisza and Premier Sturgis.

VIENNA, Oct. 5. (via London, Oct. 6.)—The executive committee of the three sections of the lower house of parliament met today to discuss important matters, including the advisability of convening parliament. Tomorrow similar committees of same groups of the upper house will meet.

The Associated Press is able to announce that the meeting will not result in the convening of parliament, but only in the calling together of the Austrian and Hungarian delegations in relations between the two countries. A majority of Austrian parliament is opposed to the assembling of the parliament, feeling that nothing can be gained at this time.

The present meetings, therefore are confined to a discussion of the advisability of calling the delegations as insisted upon by the opposition in the Hungarian parliament in the recent campaign against Premier Tisza of Hungary. The Austrian faction favoring a meeting of parliament is small but is credited with the desire to remove Premier Sturgis with whose policy it is dissatisfied.

The meeting of the delegations will have no effect on financial affairs as only foreign and military matters will be taken up.

CAMPBELL RAPS ARIZONA EXTRAVAGANCE

(Continued from page one.) figures to prove his contentions and cited the present condition of the general fund of the state's finances as an instance. The speaker declared that since July there had been a deficit of $122,000 in that fund.

The candidate declared that should he be elected governor he would endeavor to foster legislation and policies which would cut down the excessive costs of the various departments of the state government. Among other things he proposed the combination of several of the existing boards in one.

Again Campbell declared that Governor Hunt had but two policies: prison reform, which he characterized as a fad, and his biased attitude on the subject of industrial relations. "I believe in a square deal for both parties," declared Campbell. "The small man is entitled to the same shake as the big man. In case I am elected governor that is what both sides will get. Such a policy, only, can put at naught the unrest which is now apparent in the state of Arizona. It will assure you and yours that you may have peace and prosperity in full measure."

Campbell declared he was against any special forms of taxation as they applied to any special classes of property in the state. He put at rest some reports, which he credited to a Bisbee man, that he had fought an eight hour bill and had also voted against the eighty per cent measure. Campbell, according to his statement, and which is also a matter of record, was never in the state legislature and had no opportunity to vote on the bill but when he was in the territorial legislature in 1901 he introduced an eight hour bill for miners.

In closing his remarks last evening Campbell gave the crowd the salient parts of his history in the state of Arizona and asked for an investigation into his record and career.

Prof. H. C. Mathews, Henry L. Eads, John L. Gust, Norman McKenzie and J. Harris Clifton gave short talks during the meeting. Today the party will go to Don Luis, Naco, Garces and will arrive at Douglas this evening, where a meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

MEXICO PORTRAYED BY SENATOR FALL

son's support, is tottering to a fall."
285 Slain in Mexico.

Senator Fall quoted at length from many of the President's speeches, read numerous newspaper criticisms and gave a list of "American citizens" who he said, had been "killed in Mexico by armed Mexicans during the revolutionary period between 1910 and September 1915." This list included 285 names.

Anarchy Supreme
Senator Fall declared that "every bank in Mexico had been looted; the railroads have been destroyed, the rails torn up and burned over fires until useless; all bridges destroyed; American property to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars and foreign property to the extent of many millions more had been destroyed; religion had been chased out of existence and those preaching it exiled from their homes. Sisters of Charity have been outraged and murdered and those left alive compelled to flee. The churches are owned by Mr. Carranza and used as barracks and stables by his followers, or those of some other faction."

Where Wilson Fails
"Many Americans," continued Senator Fall, "have been driven to the belief that the President of the United States while possessing a keen intellectual understanding, and of the cold meaning of words, while having at his command a most voluminous vocabulary of synonyms; while understanding the art of putting words together in a sentence to convey or to hide a meaning, has not the conception of the sentiment underlying a beautifully turned phrase; and are being led to believe that the word 'humanity' carried a different meaning to McKinley from that which it bears to Wilson; that the word 'allegiance' and 'patriotism' when falling from his lips are simply the words placed like 'sparkling gems' in some well turned phrase, but are not driven hot from the heart by the thought of the welfare of the country or of its people."

SECOND WAR LOAN OF FRANCE ASSURED.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—"Reports received from all over France," says an official statement issued this evening regarding the second war loan, subscription to which opened yesterday, "states that the eagerness of subscribers to the new loan was greatest on the day the lists were opened and the success of the loan is now assured."

will seek to show that because of its executive achievements the Democratic party more than the Republican party deserves the support of progressive and independent voters.

Telegrams were received by the President today praising his selection of Major Gotha, George Rublee and E. E. Clarke, as members of the 8 hour board. It was stated authoritatively that he chose General Gotha because of his administrative ability and his acquaintanceship with railroad problems, Mr. Clarke because of his service on the interstate commerce commission and former connection with the railroad brotherhoods and Mr. Rublee because of his belief that he has an analytical mind.

The run through Iowa, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana today was made with but few stops. Mr. Wilson was told tonight of published reports that Ambassador Gerard now enroute home from his post in Berlin, was bringing suggestions that the United States make a new move for peace. The statement was authorized that the President knew of no such mission. Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador had an engagement to see the President Monday to present a letter from the German emperor on Polish relief.

Brooklyn Arrives
The Brooklyn players and officials arrived this evening accompanied by some "Brooklyn booster clubs." Manager Robinson said every member of his team was in shape and expected to win. The invading club was welcomed by a large crowd of local fans who cheered the players as they hurried to their hotel.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles."

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
